

BLESSINGS AND PROMISES TAKEN FROM “A MEMBER’S GUIDE TO TEMPLE AND FAMILY HISTORY WORK”

Redeeming the dead will bring many blessings and promises. Some of the blessings and promises are listed below. (pages 4-6).

The blessing and promise of . . .

- Coming to better understand the Savior’s atonement in our lives.
- Coming to appreciate the meaning of the Savior’s atonement in our lives.
- The powerful influence the Spirit can have in helping you to better to identify your ancestors.
- Answers coming to you in unexpected ways and places.
- Going to the temple blesses you as well as those you serve.
- Your service opening the doors of salvation of the dead.
- Helping fix upon the mind of the living the nature of the endowment.
- Helping fix upon the mind the meaning of the endowment.
- Helping fix upon the mind the obligations of the endowment
- Helping keep the endowment fresh in our minds.
- Being better able to perform our duties in life under the influence of eternal blessings.
- Increased personal revelation to bless your life
- Family members being spiritual strengthened..
- Increasing our ability to feel the spirit of the Lord.
- Strengthening us in righteousness.
- Purifying our thoughts.
- Giving us comfort in adversity.
- Helping us find answers to the challenges of daily life.
- Strengthening family relationships.
- Increasing feelings of love and gratitude for your kindred dead.
- The great joy of being a Savior on Mount. Zion.
- Greater capacity to love others.
- Further strength in righteous living.
- Greater capacity to meet the challenges of daily life.
- Increased understanding of God’s eternal purposes.
- Your life being filled with a greater abundance of the spirit.
- Blessing your family now and in eternity.
- Greater love in your home.
- Greater patience in your home.
- Greater happiness in your home.
- Greater strength to endure the trials of life.
- You and your family receiving comfort in knowing you can be together forever.
- Sharing in the Joy